Programme Outline

This is a unique programme of study delivered over three years of full residency in Paris, offering students a high level of exposure to French language and culture (understood in its broadest form to include literature, history, visual culture, cinema, linguistics and contemporary civilisation), as well as providing them with a grounding in key strategic aspects of Business, including marketing, economics for business, financial accounting and European business contexts.

The programme is designed to students with a grounding in all of these central issues (especially at levels 4 and 5), but at the same time provide sufficient flexibility to specialise in particular themes, topics and areas if they so wish (especially at level 6, but also to some degree at level 5). A research dissertation option is offered at Level 6.

The programme is designed to help students develop a strong sense of intellectual integrity, acquire substantial knowledge in the broad fields of French Studies and Business, and to apply these skills to wider situations.

Aims of the Programme

This programme aims to draw on well established modules in French Studies and Business in order to offer a comprehensive undergraduate degree preparing its graduates for careers in business, commerce and public organisations. Overall, the degree emphasises communication, analysis and breadth of knowledge, aiming to:

Programme Title: BA French Studies with Business

- Develop students' advanced skills in understanding, speaking and writing authentic French in a variety of registers including that of the business world;
- Broaden and deepen students' knowledge of key aspects of France and of the francophone world during the post-revolutionary period;
- Provide students with a coherent and intellectually stimulating programme which will compulsorily include theories of and issues in business, management, finance and HR, with a specifically European outlook.
- Introduce students to, and encourage them to employ, a range of methodological approaches and transferable skills including the ability to articulate ideas, devise and sustain arguments, assimilate and evaluate complex material, present (orally and in writing, in French and in English) the results of rational and critical thinking, and the ability to collaborate in group projects;
- Introduce students to independent research, in relation to both the study of modern languages and international relations;
- Prepare students for professional life by offering them a balanced understanding of and an ability to compare French and British cultures in both the general and business frameworks;
- Provide a basis for further study in a range of disciplines cognate to those studied in the degree.

What Will You Be Expected to Achieve?

On completing the degree programme students will be expected to:

- Write high quality essays in French and in English that draw on a range of research and develop a clearly articulated argument
- Deliver oral presentations in French and in English that engage audiences with an argument and stimulate debate and discussions
- Demonstrate an ability to critically engage with academic texts on a variety of topics, and retain and deploy information in an informative manner
- Be equipped with the skills needed to operate flexibly and effectively in business organisations, including the public sector, with an understanding of the complexity of business as a form of social practice.
- Develop a sophisticated understanding of the study, theory and practice of topics relating to both the domains of French Studies and Business, and how the two disciplines inter-relate

How Will You Learn?

The programme is taught in accordance with the ULIP's Teaching and Learning Strategy and that of SBM. Both bodies are committed to developing, maintaining and supporting good and innovative teaching practice, and to fostering independent learning and critical thinking in students, taking account of the overall framework set out in the College Teaching and Learning Strategy, and within this we consider the following areas to be of central strategic importance:

Teaching takes a number of forms:

- lecture
- seminars
- workshops
- guest speakers
- individual supervision of projects and dissertations
- individual feedback on written work (where requested)

Learning is supported by:

- Coherently designed and effectively delivered modules
- Detailed module outlines and week-by-week reading and activities on Moodle VLE
- The provision of key materials in libraries or through electronic resources
- Appropriate assessment exercises within each module
- Use of electronic teaching materials including Powerpoint, Moodle and online reading lists
- Encouraging active participation by students in seminar discussions
- Study skills methodology training

How Will You Be Assessed?

Assessment is varied and takes a number of forms within the programme. The nature of the assessment is closely connected to the desired learning outcomes and the mode of teaching within each module. Forms of assessment include:

- Unseen examinations
- Critical essays (from 1,500 to 3,000 words)
- Oral presentations (individual and group)
- Translation exercises (with or without annotations)
- Grammar tests
- Optional research dissertation in final year (6000-7000 words)

How Do We Listen and Act on Your Feedback?

The Staff-Student Liaison Committee provides a formal means of communication and discussion between schools/institutes and its students. The committee consists of student representatives from each year in the school/institute together with appropriate representation from staff within the school/institute. It is designed to respond to the needs of students, as well as act as a forum for discussing programme and module developments. Staff-Student Liaison Committees meet regularly throughout the year.

Each school/institute operates a Learning and Teaching Committee, or equivalent, which advises the School/Institute Director of Taught Programmes on all matters relating to the delivery of taught programmes at school level including monitoring the application of relevant QM policies and reviewing all proposals for module and programme approval and amendment before submission to Taught Programmes Board. Student views are incorporated in the committee's work in a number of ways, such as through student membership, or consideration of student surveys.

All schools/institutes operate an Annual Programme Review of their taught undergraduate and postgraduate provision. APR is a continuous process of reflection and action planning which is owned by those responsible for programme delivery; the main document of reference for this process is the Taught Programmes Action Plan (TPAP) which is the summary of the school/institute's work throughout the year to monitor academic standards and to improve the student experience. Students' views are considered in this process through analysis of the NSS and module evaluations.

Academic Support

Academic support is provided by a personal tutor system, an active staff-student liaison committee, programme student representatives, and year group representatives. In addition the Director of French Studies (ULIP), Head of Student Services and Library Manager play an active role in student engagement and retention strategies that adapt and change to the needs of students.

The Staff-Student Liaison Committee is made up of two undergraduate representatives from each year (first, second and final) from ULIP plus one representative for the postgraduate taught masters' programmes. The Director of French Studies is an ex officio member. Staff representatives will include the joint QMUL-ULIP Chair in IR, Head of Student Service and Library Manager.

The main forum for students to give feedback on their learning experience is via the SSLC and personal tutor system. In addition all students are invited to complete an evaluation questionnaire at the end of each module (as well as a short interim evaluation at the end of the first semester for modules valued at 30 credit points). These are considered by the module convenor and chair of LTC and issues raised are discussed at LTC and SSLC as appropriate.

Specific Support for Disabled Students

Queen Mary has a central Disability and Dyslexia Service (DDS) that offers support for all students with disabilities, specific learning difficulties and mental health issues. The DDS supports all Queen Mary students: full-time, part-time, undergraduate, postgraduate, UK and international at all campuses and all sites.

Students can access advice, guidance and support in the following areas:

Programme Title: BA French Studies with Business

- Finding out if you have a specific learning difficulty like dyslexia
- Applying for funding through the Disabled Students' Allowance (DSA)
- Arranging DSA assessments of need
- Special arrangements in examinations
- Accessing loaned equipment (e.g. digital recorders)
- Specialist one-to-one "study skills" tuition
- Ensuring access to course materials in alternative formats (e.g. Braille)
- Providing educational support workers (e.g. note-takers, readers, library assistants)
- Mentoring support for students with mental health issues and conditions on the autistic spectrum.

Links With Employers, Placement Opportunities and Transferable Skills

Graduates from this programme will have developed a range of cognitive, communicative and practical skills which will be applicable to a wide range of professional contexts outside of academia, as well as opening the way to graduate studies in a broad range of domains.

Students are encouraged to undertake internships during their time in Paris and ULIP can offer advice and support for students seeking such opportunities.

Throughout the academic year, careers talks from alumni and other external speakers will complement support provided by Careers Group consultants.
