

THURSDAY 27 JUNE

Venue: iQ East Court Building, Room 1.03

9.30 Welcome and introductions

9.45 ILLITTERATAE – Women and the Transmission of Alternative Religious Knowledge in the Western Mediterranean

Delfi Nieto-Isabel, Queen Mary University of London

11.00-11.30 Coffee break

11.30 Session I - Women in the South?

Margherita Colonna and the Transmission of Religious Knowledge in Thirteenth-Century Rome

Sean Field, University of Vermont

Radical Transformations of the Soul in Angela of Foligno's Pedagogical Texts

Michael Hahn, Sarum College

Chair: Claire Taylor, University of Nottingham

13.00-14.30 Lunch

14.30 Session II - Women in the North?

Migration and Transmission of Knowledge Among the Swesteren and Lollards of the Low Countries and Rhineland, c. 1290–c. 1350

Walter Simons, Dartmouth College

Speaking from the 'Outside': Criticism of the Religious in the Visiones cuiusdam virginis

Amanda Langley, Queen Mary University of London

Chair: Justine Trombley, Durham University

16.00-16.30 Coffee Break

16.30 Round table & Discussion

Chair: Miri Rubin, Queen Mary University of London

18.30 Workshop Dinner

FRIDAY 28 JUNE

10.30 Guided Tour

Southwark and the Margins of Medieval London

Eliot Benbow, Queen Mary University of London

12.00-13.00 Lunch

15.00 Book presentation at Audits Room, King's College, Cambridge

The Making of Lay Religion in Southern France, c. 1000-1350 (Oxford University Press)

John Arnold, Cambridge University

17.30 Drinks Reception

